Science City
Kolkata

Chakrapani Ayurveda Clinic & Research Center highly recommends readers of AyurvedaNews to participate in 7th World Ayurveda Congress & Arogya Expo being held from 1-4 December 2016 in Kolkata-Science City

The 7th World Ayurveda Congress and AROGYA Expo, opens yet another window to a healthier future. The previous editions of WAC, held at Cochin, Pune, Jaipur, Bengaluru, Bhopal and Delhi, had witnessed a highly welcoming response. The highest number of delegates, numbering more than 4200 attended the WAC at Bengaluru. The largest number of visitors who participated in the AROGYA Expo was at Pune where more than 500,000 individuals took advantage of the Forum. The highest number of foreign delegates numbering 264 attended the Bengaluru Congress.

The 7th WAC, scheduled be held at Science Centre, Kolkata from 1 - 4 December, has further fanned the expectations of stakeholders, Ayurveda practitioners and enthusiasts. Anticipating a huge response, the WAC Secretariat has made a booking for the venue through the Science City authorities.

Well, mere numbers do not make up the whole story, yet they speak volumes about the significance and magnitude of an event. The 7th WAC will hold 5 plenary sessions, 25 parallel sessions and a huge number of paper presentations, complemented by a series of associated events. Welcome, one and all!

Ayurveda, the centuries-old, tried and trusted form of Indian medicine has been growing popular amidst global nations in recent times. The World Ayurveda Congress and AROGYA Expo, held in various Indian cities since the year 2002, brings together an astounding number of Ayurveda practitioners, scientists and researchers from India and abroad, as well as teachers, students and health care professionals seeking safe and efficient treatment for a wide range of ailments and health conditions.

Ayurveda has a unique form of medicine, surgery, pathology and several other disciplines concerned with health care and curative medicine.
